

THE HONEYCOMB

H I V E

In 2017, Kindred Healthcare partnered with the University of Louisville to announce The Hive, a collaborative work space and incubator in Louisville for developing new healthcare technologies. In 2019, Kindred is partnering with Crimson Mission to announce development and launch of The Honeycomb, similarly a shared collaborative co-working and co-learning space for Manual students. Space has already been designed and will be outfitted for use by Manual students in early 2019.

If you like this and other similar projects made possible by Crimson Mission, please continue to support and donate to our cause!
